

YOUTH EMPOWERMENT PROJECT LUNCHEON OF CHAMPIONS

Cam Jordan

In the world of professional football, Cam Jordan is an eight-time Pro Bowler and a three-time All-Pro defensive end. But at the YEP Youth Center in Central City, he is simply known as a caring adult who shows up.

Off the field, Jordan has built a lasting legacy rooted in service, education, and mentorship. Cam's commitment to our young people isn't just about philanthropy, it's also about presence. Whether he is dropping by after-school programs to play a game with our young people, hosting an opportunity for participants to shop for a new pair of shoes for the holidays at Sneaker Politics, or inviting our youth to a football camp at the Saints facility, Cam has made YEP and our young people a personal priority for years.

We saw the heart of his mission on a national stage last year when he surprised a YEP mentee and his mentor with tickets to Super Bowl LX on the Tamron Hall Show. Cam also understands the importance of removing barriers so that young people can maximize their potential.

Through the Cam Jordan Foundation, he has completed more than 250 school visits throughout his career, focusing on youth empowerment and access to opportunity. With his Foundation Legacy Scholarship Program, he is helping to remove financial barriers to success. This year, Cam gifted a $50,000 scholarship to a YEP alum, providing a full, four-year ride to the University of Louisiana at Lafayette, along with career exposure opportunities and professional development.

Cam isn't just a standout on the field; he is a standout for justice, community service, and the belief that every child deserves the resources and opportunities to improve their lives. He doesn't just talk about community impact, he lives it, one scholarship and one mentorship at a time.

Please join us in honoring a true leader, a community anchor, and a long-time friend of YEP, Cam Jordan.
